Description

Metal casing required for recessing the iVector S2 fan convector with a front cover. The iVector S2 mounts directly into metal casing. A front cover is required - order separately.

Area of Application

The Metal Casing for Recessed iVector S2 is designed for recessed installation in walls or ceilings. It ensures secure mounting and protection of the heating and cooling unit. Essential areas of application include residential buildings, offices, commercial spaces, healthcare facilities, and hotels.

Selection Criteria

For selecting the appropriate casing for your iVector S2, use our design service. For quick selection, use our brochure.

Basic User Instructions

Before installation, ensure that the wall or ceiling surface is flat and clear of obstructions. Insert the iVector S2 unit into the metal casing and secure it firmly. Always use a front cover to complete the installation, which should be ordered separately. In case of a water leak or damage, isolate the electrical supply and contact a service engineer. Regular maintenance is essential for optimum performance.

Prescription text specifiers

The Metal Casing for Recessed iVector S2 is constructed to meet the requirements of a secure and professional recessed installation in walls or ceilings. It is essential to use this casing for the iVector S2 fan convector, providing a solid and protective enclosure. The casing supports the unit and must be paired with a front cover to complete the installation. Suitable for diverse environments such as residential homes, offices, commercial buildings, healthcare, and hospitality settings. Ensure proper order and maintenance for optimal functionality and enhanced durability of the iVector S2.
