Description

Floor Mounting Feet/Pipe Covers are essential accessories for grounding and concealing hydraulic pipes in fan convectors like the iVECTOR S2 series. These fixings ensure that the unit is securely anchored to the ground, providing stability and an aesthetic finish by hiding visible pipes. Ideal for both residential and commercial applications requiring robust support and a clean appearance.

Area of Application

Floor Mounting Feet/Pipe Covers are suitable for use in anchoring fan convectors to the ground, specifically the iVECTOR S2 model. They also conceal any hydraulic pipes coming up through the floor, providing a clean and professional finish. Ideal for commercial and residential installations requiring stable and secure ground anchoring with concealed pipework.

Selection Criteria

Select the appropriate Floor Mounting Feet/Pipe Covers for your unit by referring to the specific model accessories and sizes listed in our product brochure or use our design service for personalized assistance.

Basic User Instructions

When installing Floor Mounting Feet/Pipe Covers, ensure they are securely attached to the floor. Use provided brackets and follow the alignment instructions to maintain stability. The covers will conceal hydraulic pipes emerging from the floor. Do not use the mounting feet for wall-anchored appliances, as they are designed only for ground support.

Prescription text specifiers

Floor Mounting Feet/Pipe Covers are designed for secure installation of iVECTOR S2 series fan convectors to the ground. These fixings not only anchor the unit securely but also conceal any hydraulic pipes rising from the floor, ensuring a neat and professional installation. Ideal for both commercial and residential use, these covers provide stability and enhance the aesthetic appeal by hiding unsightly pipes. Installation involves securing the brackets to the ground and ensuring proper alignment to maintain the unit's stability. The mounting feet are not suitable for wall-anchored units. For selection and size details, refer to our product brochure or use our design service.
